thirty years of operational excellence, McCulloch Group introduces a new leasing and purchase model for their cutting-edge rail solutions in the American markets through this partnership with DavRail.

The Directors of McCulloch Group say "The appointment of DavRail as our exclusive distributors across North and South America is a key step within our strategic growth plans for the McCulloch Group. As a family business founded in a small Scottish town by twin brothers over thirty years ago, we are proud to be transforming the rail infrastructure across the globe with our unique equipment and approach. The relationship with DavRail, and wider DavOil Group, is a development which accelerates our international reach to the benefit of the industry worldwide. We are proud to welcome DavRail formally as strategic partners and look forward to a future together."

Why McCulloch?

DavRail believes the partnership with McCulloch Group will significantly enhance the company's capabilities. McCulloch's expertise and innovative solutions will empower DavRail to elevate its offerings and ensure delivery of the highest quality products and services to its customers.
